Georgetown Woman Honored as Employee of the Year
Karen Seevers, E-Z Pack Manufacturing, Recognized
By Solid Waste Industry Peers

WASHINGTON, D.C. – On Tuesday, May 10, Karen Seevers of Georgetown, Ky. will receive the Waste Equipment Technology Association's (WASTEC) Employee of the Year Award for Sales and Marketing.

WASTEC is the non-profit trade association serving for-profit manufacturers and distributors in the solid and medical waste recycling and disposal industry. E-Z Pack Manufacturing, LLC, headquartered in Cynthiana, Ky., is a leading manufacturer of refuse truck bodies and OEM garbage truck parts.

Seevers serves as inside sales manager for E-Z Pack. She began her career there in 1970 as a clerk-typist, later moving to switch board operator and receptionist, a position she held for 14 years. In 1986, she advanced her career by becoming an international equipment sales person, where her biggest challenge was addressing the constantly changing priorities of customers. Her success led to elevation to her current position, where she is responsible for increasing the number of dealerships selling E-Z Pack's mobile equipment as well as for direct telephone purchases, Internet orders, and sales to national customers.

"Karen represents the very best of the solid waste industry," said Janice Comer Bradley, WASTEC's Executive Vice President. "She is respected for her tenacity and commitment to her customers."

The awards ceremony will take place in Dallas as part of the waste industry's national trade show, WasteExpo 2011 (wasteexpo.com).
